Filaments 10, united at the base, 6 only bearing anthers; at the back is a large flattened filament terminated with a little mucro, nearly the same as in P. reniforme, P. cortusae-folium, and perhaps the whole of this section. Pollen yellow. Capsules very hairy. Arista villous. Style smooth, fleshcoloured. Stigmas 5, dark red, reflexed. Vol. i. o This curious plant is one of the mules which we noticed in our last number; it was first raised by Mr. Colvill, from seed produced between reniforme and cortusae-folium, and participates equally of the two, except in being a taller grower than either. It is a very desirable plant, as it continues to flower till late in autumn, after most of the showy kinds are over; it also flowers before them in spring, if kept tolerably warm and dry in the winter. The best soil to...
